EFFICIENCY THROUGH LIGHTWEIGHT

Increasing share of composite applications

- > Lightweight components increase the efficiency of modern aircraft
- > Composite components account for around 50% of the total weight of modern aircraft
- > The aircraft are 25 % more efficient, emit 60% less noise and are easier to service

Today: Existing technologies allow 10-12 aircraft to be built per month.

Future: Composite applications in narrow-body aircraft (A320 or B737) have to be repeated 60 times a month. New technologies are necessary in order to equip the next generation of these aircraft with a high percentage of composite components from the year 2025.

CONSTANTLY GROWING ORDER BACKLOG

- > FACC benefits from an increasing demand for more efficient aircraft.
- > Since January 2017 FACC Group increased its order backlog from new customer contracts by more than EUR 1bn.

- > FACC is the single source partner for the new Airbus A320 „Airspace – Cabine“ and Entrance Area
- > Contract volume – EUR 700 - 750 mill.

- > FACC is a strategic partner of Bombardier and is the single source supplier of wing-to-body fairings. The new C Series regional aircraft will feature lightweight components produced by FACC
- > Contract volume – EUR 100 mill.

- > Rolls-Royce extends the partnership with FACC to a new engine platform. The contract underlines the strong long lasting partnership between both companies.
- > Contract volume – EUR 35 mill.

OVERVIEW OF THE AEROSPACE MARKET

Economic environment of the sector

- > OEM's confirmed long-term outlook
- > Until 2036
 - Annual growth of revenue passenger kilometer (RPK) at 5%
 - Demand for more than 41,000 aircraft (new and replacements)
- > Growth markets for the aerospace industry remain China & India – strong FACC footprint already established

AFTERMARKET SERVICES

A market with significant growth potential

- > Increasing demand for composite repairs and replacement
- > Airlines as new customers for FACC
- > Network and footprint extended to service customers
- > Austrian and Lufthansa as first customers announced
- > Significant mid-term growth expectations

INVESTMENTS

FACC is prepared to fullfill future customer demands

- > Investments in automation, capacity and logistics
- > I4.0 and automated processes as key elements of FACC's investment plan
- > Customers demand for higher automation and rate increases
- > Investment led to significant increase in capacity at the Engines/Nacelles and Cabin Interior segment

AEROSPACE MARKET HIGHLIGHTS

Long term growth in Aerospace reconfirmed, but still very dynamic environment in front of industry

- > 305 Aircraft deliveries in Q1/2018 = Same as Q1/2017
- > 300 Net Sales booked in Q1/2018
 - +34% YoY increase
 - Boeing dominance with 85% share
- > Engine Issues (PW and Trent) impacting both, Airbus and Boeing
- > Trump administration remains and question mark

AEROSPACE MARKET IN 2017 - REVIEW

Ramp up of key-projected continues

- 2017 was another positive year
 - 1.481 Aircraft deliveries
 - 2.012 Aircraft net orders
 - 1,36 Book to Bill increases backlog
- Ramp up of key-projected continues
- Major program milestones achieved
 - A330neo First Flights
 - A350-1000 First Flight
 - B737 MAX TC and start of EIS
 - EMB 190 E2 T/C

AEROSPACE MARKET - SUMMARY

The outlook is positive for the aerospace market in the long run

- > OEM's improving their profits through a modern fleet structures, increased efficiency & low fuel cost
- > A320, A350, B787 rate increases confirmed by customers
- > High market potential for MRO business
- > New developments to come – eg. Comac C929
- > FACC participates in global market growth
 - Established Tier 1 partner of the industry
 - Long-term contracts for new aircraft & engines
 - Existing presence in Europe / Austria, North America, China, India and UAE

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Important FACC revenue contributors on track

- > Serial production program ramp ups in line with expectations.
- > Rate studies beyond current demands announced by OEM's providing further growth potential for FACC.
- > Program ramp ups are over compensating slow down of A380 and B737NG production rates.
- > New projects acquired in 2017 are in the execution process and on track to deliver sizeable revenues starting with Q2/2019.
- > FACC engine technology used on Rolls-Royce Pearl Engine powering the all new Global 6500/7500 business jet family.

CHINA'S AEROSPACE PROGRAM

Substantial growth potential for early FACC engagement

- > ARJ 21 Program ramp up with 100% rate increases
- > C919 Flight test program and entry into service (EIS) forecasted for 2021
- > C929 Possible FACC technology engagement
- > China production: Successful work transfer to China facility accomplished.
- > Revenue Potential: Current China program rate forecast will provide sustainable revenue potential for FACC starting 2021 and beyond.

OUTLOOK

CIVIL AEROSPACE MARKET

The outlook is positive for the aerospace market in the long run

- The growth trend in the civil aviation industry is expected to remain strong in the future.
- Current market forecasts of OEMs confirm the constant annual increase in passenger volumes of around 4.5 %.
- Over the next two decades, the global aircraft fleet, which currently amounts to 21,000 large commercial aircraft will more than double to roughly 42,500 aircraft by 2036.
- However, a significant shift towards the new growth markets China and India is also expected to occur.
- Traffic volumes (flights per year and per capita) are expected to quadruple in these markets by 2036. In the US and Europe, where air travel is already widespread, the number of flights per capita is expected to increase by an additional 40%.

OUTLOOK

Unchanged compared to reporting for FY 2017/18 on May 16, 2018

- In the coming years, the company expects to gradually increase the production rates of its most important programs.
- Vision 2020 growth plan on track based on program ramp ups and new business contracts
- FACC is particularly focused on processing the new orders signed last year. It is expected that the first revenues from these new orders will be generated in 2019/20 financial year.
- Based on current market assessments and the Group's existing product mix, FACC expects revenue growth in the single-digit percentage range in the 2018/19 financial year.
- Initiatives to reduce cost will continue with highest priority. This will include low cost production but also insourcing activities leading to a substantial improvement in earnings.
- Strong market focus to increase FACC's market-share in all segments will continue in 2018.
